

In Cauda Venenum

In Cauda Venenum is a French atmospheric black metal. It was founded by Romain Lupino in 2010. The project remained under wraps until the first public announcement in December of 2014, but Romain and drummer Nicolas Deléchenault had secretly been collaborating since 2012.

The band's self-titled debut release on Lupino's own record label Émanations quickly caught the attention of Abridged Pause Recordings. After months of begging, In Cauda Venenum finally agreed to partake in Abridged Pause Recordings' forthcoming Various Artists compilation, "Billowing Tempestus". The band will be recording an exclusive song; a brilliant cover of a popular television series theme song.